STREET CAR IS BLOWN UP WITH DYNAMITE

Nine Passengers Injured, Two of Whom May Die-Mobs Attack Officers and the Nonunion Crews-State Militia Is Called Out.

Cleveland was quiet Monday morning after a riotous Sunday. Mob violence continued throughout the city from Saturday night to late Sunday night. Troops A, mounted; naval reserves, and several companies of the Fifth regiment, infantry, O. N. G., were kept busy scattering mobs. One missile thrower was shot mobs. One missile thrower was while trying to escape from a policeman, but with all the rioting there was little Sunday night it became serious. The worst incident of the lawless night was the blowing up of a Euclid avenue car in the far east end. Nine people were injured. It is believed nitroglycerin was Motorman Dreggers was blown from the car, and one of his ears was blown off, but he managed to catch the car again and shut off the current. About twenty people were on the car. Women who were not hurt fainted. The car was badly damaged. Fred Smith was blown into the air, then fell into the holes made in the floor, and was dragged along a considerable distance. It is believed a couple of men who approached the spot in a bug-gy a few minutes before the explosion left the nitroglycerin on the track. A private detective saw them and said he enew them.

Mob violence broke forth with great fury on Burton street, near Trent street, Sunday morning. About 10 o'clock the mob, which numbered 2,500 people, attacked two cars with stones. were in charge of Patrolmen Moore and Thorpe. The police left the cars and the mob closed in about them. The officers fought with their clubs, but the fury of the rioters was too much for them. They were badly bruised, when a Catholic priest was seen elbowing his way through the crowd. He finally reached the police, and standing before them and the mob, commanded the rioters in the name of the church to save the lives of the men. The flowing robes of the priest and his brave act awed the mob. The officers were then taken into St. Prokops Church. Their brave rescuer was the Rev. Father Wen-

MUST ARBITRATE OR FIGHT.

Premier Laurier's Remarkable View of Alaska Boundary Dispute.

In the Canadian Commons Saturday Sir Charles Tupper brought up the question of the Alaskan boundary. He said that the United States, in refusing to submit the subject to arbitration, well justified the decision Great Britain and Canada had reached in declining to allow the question to go before the joint high commission. He believed that the Government and commissioners of the United States had lost confidence in their own claims to this strip of disputed territory. Sir Charles suggested a bill providing for protection of British and Canadian interests by enacting that no license to mine in the Yukon district shall be granted to any other than a British subject. Premier Laurier, in reply, sympathized with much that Sir Charles Tupper had said. He stated that he had little hope now of a compromise, and was very sorry to say that the negotiations had not advanced the position one iota from that of January last.

alternatives, he gravely stated, were arbitration or war. Arbitration, he emphatically declared, must come, and although an agreement upon the terms of arbitration had not yet been reached, he held that Canada's wisest course was to exercise further patience and forbear-

A Washington dispatch says that the statement of Premier Laurier in the Canadian House of Commons that there are two alternatives regarding the Alaskan boundary dispute, arbitration or war, is regarded in Washington as only another bluff for Canadian home consumption. The United States has been in possession of the territory in dispute for a genera-tion. The United States has only to say, in Sir Wilfrid's ancestral language, "Je suis; je reste"—I am here; I stay here—and then what is Sir Wilfrid going to do

GOLD YIELD OF KLONDIKE.

Mint Director Roberts Puts It at $20,-000,000 This Year.

George D. Roberts, director of the United States mint, while in New York called at the assay office in Wall street Friday and made the prediction that this year's gold yield from the Klondike would reach $18,000,000 or $20,000,000, and that most of this will come to the banks in New York.

The gold receipts from the Klondike already this summer amount to $11,000,000, which, Mr. Roberts said, offset the gold that has been exported from New York City to Europe.

Both are fond of society, and as the posi tion of Secretary of War is one of the most prominent in the cabinet the couple would become leaders in Washington.

Elihu Root is a leading New York law yer and Republican politician. The only time Mr. Root has been a candidate for an elective office was in 1889, when he ran unsuccessfully for judge of the Court of Common Pleas. He was appointed by President Arthur in 1883 United States district attorney, in place of Stewart L. Woodford, for the southern district of New York, remaining in office until 1885. He was an active member of the commit tee of thirty which worked to obtain reform in the city of New York, and in 1886 was chairman of the Republican county committee of New York. The President offered Mr. Root the Spanish mission prior to its tender to Mr. Woodford. Mr. Root was also suggested as Secretary of the Interior and as ambas-sador to London. Last year he was talked of as a United States senatorial possibility.
